

SUPPORT FOR CONSULTANTS

An SRI-Connect product for listed companies

We deliver whatever combination of information, guidance, support or services you need to deliver an efficient and ongoing sustainable IR programme

Product details

We provide back-end support that enables consultants to support their own corporate clients with sustainable investor communications services.

When you might need this

- Sustainability consultants often use our services to help them add an investor-facing dimension to sustainability reporting or communications services.
- Investors relations consultants often use our services to help them add a specialist SRI/ESG/sustainability dimension to existing investor relations services such as investor targeting and profiling, perception analysis, training and logistics support.

What we do

- Provide you with whatever support you need to support your clients effectively

How much it costs

- £1,500 per day + VAT (UK)

What we need from you

- To understand the services that you currently provide to clients
- To assess your current client needs
- To understand where there are gaps in the information or experience that you have that prevents you from fulfilling client needs

What we deliver

- Importantly, we only deliver services to clients through you. We are interested in empowering you and not interested in becoming a primary point of contact for your clients.
